

PREMIER LLOYD GEORGE QUILTS; BONAR LAW GETS LEADERSHIP

TWO FARMERS LOSE HEAVILY IN HUGE FIRES

Barns, Buildings Burn Down On Robert Schroth And Charles
Thomas Farms

Barns, farm buildings, livestock, the season's crops and machinery were lost by two farmers in Outagamie co in fires which occurred within the last 24 hours causing losses running into thousands. Valiant work of neighbors saved the homesteads, however.

John Schroth 982 Superior-st., owner of a farm rented by his son Robert Schroth at Stephentown is one of the losers in one of the largest fires in that locality in years, occurring about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

The other fire was at the Charles Thomas farm, town of Cicero, about 5 miles from Stephentown. It broke out about 3 o'clock Thursday morning.

HAY FEELS FLAMES
Combustion in the hay barn at the Schroth farm is believed to have caused the fire there. The building is 40 by 150 feet in size, equipped elaborately with modern dairy equipment, and contained 110 loads of hay which ignited quickly and made a seething furnace of the structure in a short time.

Neighbors flocked to the farm and tried to save the other buildings, but met with little success. A wind fanning the flames in the opposite direction from the Schroth home saved that building.

All of the large machines used on the farm, which were on the barn floor, were ruined by flames which burned the structure to the ground. The loss also included a ton of bran, 1,800 bushels of oats and other feed and equipment. A dairy house, chicken coop and storm shed also were consumed. Mr. Schroth's horses were saved and 32 valuable dairy cows were in a pasture safe from harm. Silage in a concrete silo probably will be salvaged.

LOSSES MACHINE
Joseph Kettner also suffered a loss through this fire. His corn shredder had just been hauled to the farm for some work to be done there and was in the barn. Mr. Schroth's loss is covered partially by insurance and he plans to rebuild at once.

Mr. Thomas awoke during the night and discovered that his barn was in flames, presumably from combustion. He awoke his wife and then hastened to the barn, where he was able to remove his three horses and fourteen cows. Nine head of cows, two calves, thirteen hogs and about four hundred chickens perished in the flames.

LOSS HEAVY
The buildings burned to the ground included the barn, silo, hen house, hog pen, granary and corn crib. Neighbors also assisted here in large numbers and saved the homestead. Straw stacks, corn shocks, 2,000 bushels of grain and 25 loads of hay were included in the loss.

Mr. Thomas says he has been hit heavily by the fire loss and may not be able to rebuild. He could not estimate the loss but said he had insurance amounting to about $2,600.

URGES GREATER PAPER EXPORT

American Industries Self Satisfied, Speaker Tells Convention

Chicago—Discussing Scandinavian competition in the paper industry, Dr. Hugh P. Baker, executive secretary of the American Paper and Pulp association, declared at the business conference of the paper manufacturers and merchants Thursday that "America must get over its idea of self sufficiency if it is to secure its fair share of the world's paper markets."

"American mills have been developed with the idea of meeting the domestic market," while Scandinavian countries with cheaper labor and regarding the forests rather than the mills, as the key point of the industry, aim chiefly at the foreign market.

"American industry will more and more measure its success in terms of export trade and this applies to the paper industry as well as to other lines of manufacture."

NAB 35 I. W. W. SUSPECTS IN DOCK STRIKE

Portland, Ore. Facing "Wobbly" Invasion, According To Mayor

By Associated Press

Portland, Ore.—With the declaration that Portland was threatened by an invasion of thousands of members of the I. W. W. coming here to participate in the waterfront strike, Mayor Baker Wednesday night and early Thursday, by orders to the police caused the arrest of 35 men for investigation. During a conference held Wednesday in the mayor's office, word was sent to the city council concerning the situation, and an ordinance appropriating $10,000 for the immediate hire of 74 special officers to aid in combating the I. W. W. was passed as an emergency act.

Within an hour after the conference had ended, police were combing the city for members of the I. W. W. known to be active in the present waterfront strike and also in meeting freight trains said to be loaded with "wobblies."

Mayor Baker, in a statement to the public said:

"With the outbreak of a general I. W. W. strike on the waterfront and an influx of I. W. W. from over the country Portland faces a critical labor situation which must be met forcibly and immediately in order to prevent serious disorder, if not a reign of terror. The strike is announced as an I. W. W. strike and is sponsored by that organization and will be attended by the blackjacket tactics of that organization which has for its only known purpose the overthrow of law and order, the ruin of industry and the Russianizing of the world."

NEENAH GIRL NEAR DEATH; DRANK ACID

Lover Who Jilted Her Is Under Arrest On Statutory Charge

Neenah — Pretty Florence Jetty, 20 years old, who said she drank carbolic acid because the man she loved, Andrew Nudack, a workman here, refused to marry her, has hardly any chance of recovery, according to her physician.

The girl, who swallowed an ounce of the acid in her room at a hotel where she was employed, and then rushed screaming into the lobby late Monday afternoon, is at Theda Clark hospital.

Meanwhile police moved to investigate further the details of the pretty girl's love affairs. According to information given Otto Anderson, proprietor of the hotel where the girl had worked for the last ten weeks, Nudack, who is employed on a local construction crew, and Miss Jetty had been keeping company for several weeks. She and Nudack had frequently been seen together, according to Anderson's story given police.

Nudack was arrested on Wednesday on a statutory charge, on orders of D. K. Allen, district attorney of Winnebago county.

ASKS COURT TO DECIDE
PATERNITY OF CHILD

By Associated Press

St. Louis — Henry H. Laumeier, prominent local clubman and wealthy real estate dealer, whose attorney Wednesday filed a petition asking the Circuit court to determine the paternity of a child born to his divorced wife, Miss Byrd Shoemaker, could not be reached for a statement Thursday.

In the petition Laumeier stated that the child was born 23 months after his separation from his former wife on Jan. 9, 1918, the day following their marriage of which he said took place while he was intoxicated.

Laumeier is 47 years old and Miss Shoemaker 26. She formerly resided in Memphis and now is said to be living in New York.

Takes Hand To Settle Dispute Where Direct Welfare Of Public Is Involved—Would Not Meddle In 'Candy' Strike

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1922, by Post Pub. Co.
(This is the first of a series of three articles on the Kansas Industrial court and its operation.)

Topeka—Kansas has proceeded far enough with her experiment in state adjudication of labor disputes to make the idea worthy of examination for nation wide use. The American Bar association has a committee at work which will recommend to the various states of the nation, a model law patterned after the Kansas formula.

Labor and capital have had their say about the Kansas court and there has been a noticeable misconception of some of the purposes of the court.

The Kansas law does not attempt to prevent all strikes nor is it invoked in all cases where employees may shut down their plants and cause lockouts. The law received a black eye in many parts of the country because of the antipicketing feature which was literally enforced against William Allen White but that's after all a collateral issue and the courts will, by their decisions set forth the limitations of the future.

THE PRINCIPLES
To understand the law and its application one should study carefully, the set of principles which Governor Allen, father of the measure, has written as his interpretation of the industrial act.

"The right to abandon a job individually or collectively is unquestioned. It can never be abridged. The right to quit work individually for the purpose of securing higher wages or better working conditions is unquestioned."

"The right to agree with others to quit work for the purpose of demanding better wages or working conditions may be admitted as long as the public welfare is not threatened."

"The right to agree with a large body of others to quit work and to hinder or stop the production of essentials in time of need is subject to very serious question and calls for the intervention of government, because—"

"The right to agree with all others to quit work until any and all demands, economic or political, are met, regardless of the suffering or deaths of the population is a thing that is always in the realm of possibility as a logical sequence, and in such a case the existing government would be in effect overthrown in favor of an economic oligarchy."

Under the present law of Kansas the intervention of the Industrial Court occurs only when essential production of direct relation to the public welfare is affected. Thousands of strikes could go on in candy plants or piano making factories and the public welfare would not be disturbed and the court of Kansas would ignore the trouble but should a strike in the mining of coal or some other necessary life develop, the court takes jurisdiction at once.

The Kansas court of three judges is not a board of arbitration. It doesn't consist of a representative of labor, a representative of capital and a neutral. It consists of three neutrals. The decision is final only in the sense that if the Supreme court of the state or the Supreme court of the United States doesn't find ground for reversing it the mandate must be obeyed or a severe penalty is inflicted.

(Friday's dispatch will deal with the attitude of organized labor toward the Kansas court.)

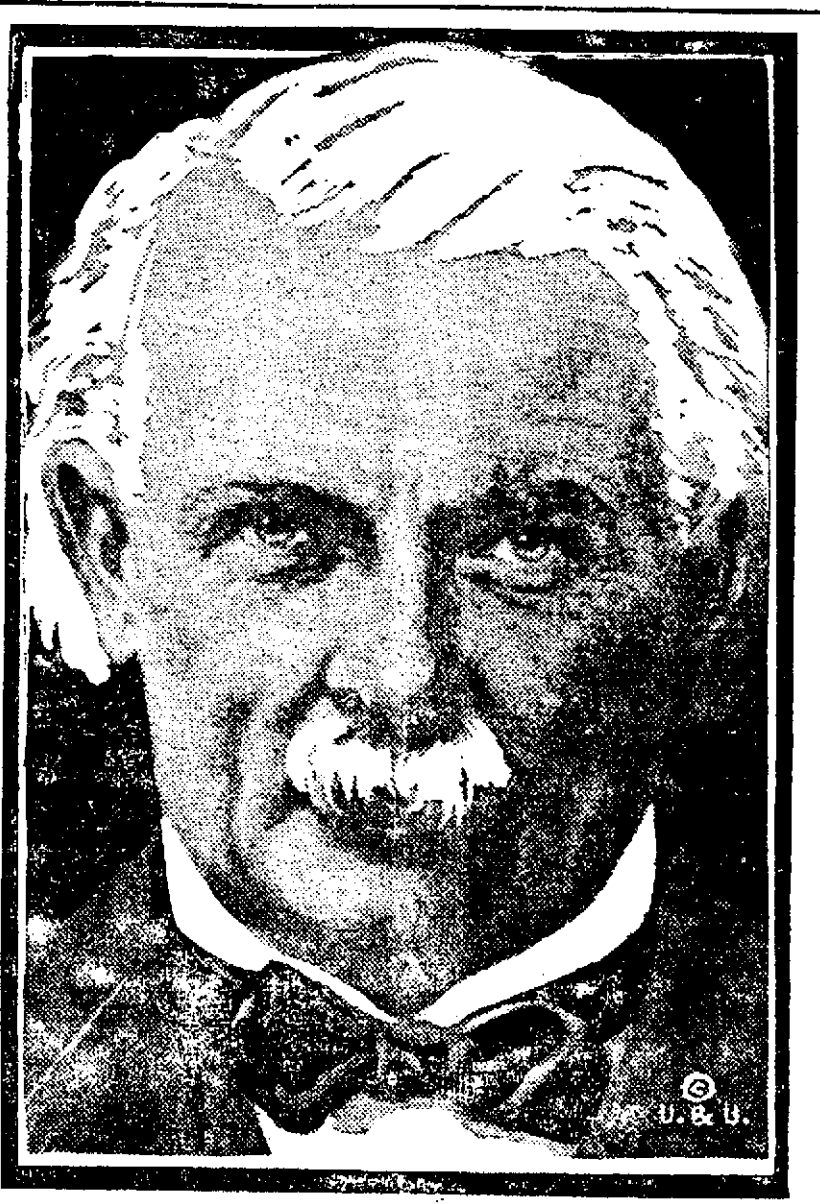

BARBER'S NAME TO STAY ON BALLOT

Madison—The Wisconsin Supreme court Thursday issued a writ of prohibition restraining Judge A. H. Reid of Wausau from acting to keep the name of Joseph Barber, Republican nominee for the state senate from the twenty-fifth district, off the November general election ballot. Arguments on the writ will be held before the court Wednesday, Oct. 25.

Action was commenced against Barber on Tuesday by Ralph H. Smith, independent Republican candidate for the state senate in the twenty-fifth district, charging that the Republican nominee was ineligible for office because at one time convicted of an alleged infamous crime.

LITTLE DAVID QUILTS POST

DAVID LLOYD GEORGE

David Left Orphan, But Rules Europe

Outlasted All Allied War Leaders—Rise Of Lloyd George Romantic

Lloyd George outlasted all the statesmen who guided the great nation through the World war. In the turmoil of readjustment that followed that conflict, he kept his seat at the steering wheel when all around him were losing theirs. The men with whom he sat at Paris as the "Big Four" of the peace conference, long ago were toppled over. Premier Orlando of Italy was the first to go. His cabinet resigned in June 1919. The following January, Clemenceau, the "French Tiger," was cast aside. Two months later the senate of the United States refused for a second time to ratify the peace treaty Woodrow Wilson had brought home from Versailles and not long afterwards his party was beaten at the polls.

RISE ROMANTIC
The rise of Lloyd George was an adventure in politics filled with as much romance as the lives of famous Americans who came up from log cabins to the white house. He was born in Manchester, England, Jan. 17, 1863.

His father, Unitarian schoolmaster, died when David was an infant and the child was adopted by an uncle, Richard Lloyd, a Welsh shoe-maker and lay preacher. With only a limited education David went into a law office in the little town in North Wales, where he lived with his uncle. Then he married and soon dived into politics. For 18 years he was a Liberal member of parliament representing Carnarvon. Then came a rapid rise to fame. His ascent to a place among the mighty began in 1908 when Asquith became premier. The little Welshman with the sparkling eyes entered the cabinet as chancellor of the exchequer.

With the coming of the war, Lloyd George convulsed the country by introducing drastic reforms in taxation which put new burdens on the wealthy classes and confiscated part of the unearned increment of land.

SAVES ENGLAND
In 1916 when England was threatened with strikes at a time when Germany was scoring heavy skies on the western front, Lloyd George left the chancellorship of the exchequer to become minister of munitions and with no other equipment than a private secretary and office table, staked his reputation and his future on mobilizing the industrial resources of the nation before it was too late.

In this tremendous task he succeeded, and so when Kitchener was lost at sea the Welshman took his place as secretary of state for war. When on Dec. 6, 1916 he was called to premiership.

Demand Ousting Of General Sawyer At Legion Convention

Report Of Rehabilitation Committee Inspires Resolution—Pershing Is Guest Of "Buddies"—Elect Commander Friday

By American Press

New Orleans—A resolution demanding the removal of Brigadier General Charles E. Sawyer from post as co-ordinator of the federal bureau of hospitalization was presented the American legion convention by Department Commander Barren of Minnesota "for utter unfitness." The attack was inspired by the report of Rice Means of Colorado, of the national rehabilitation committee which accepted "the pledge of cooperation" given by General Sawyer.

Declaring that "an armistice had been signed," and that "it's time to stop fighting," Adolphus Graupner of California, spoke against Mr. Barren's resolution.

A demand from the floor that a statement be made as to whether General Sawyer had signed an agreement in writing, was answered by Colonel A. A. Sprague of Chicago, chairman of the rehabilitation committee who said the committee had taken General Sawyer "on his word."

DEFENDS GENERAL
Colonel Sprague said he believed General Sawyer had been mistakenly maligned. He asked a vote against Barren's resolution.

"I will not be a blow at Sawyer," he said. "You can't dislodge Sawyer. It will only be a blow at your rehabilitation committee."

Adjutant Stafford King of the Minnesota department was recognized by Past National commander Emory who was called to the chair by General Foreman.

"Not a damn cent has been spent in Minnesota," King said. "Although statement after statement has been made that the money has been allocated. As for me if I am the only man to voice antagonism to General Sawyer, I'll voice it."

"I can tell you of 'buddies' dying on the steps of hospitals in Minnesota, waiting to get in," Adjutant King continued. "I hope, I pray this amendment may be adopted."

Department Commander G. R. Bettman of Ohio, spoke against personalities. "It would be futile," he said. "If the legion demand that Harding remove Sawyer. If Harding does not remove him where are we?"

Grows from all parts of the vast hall stopped Bettman from proceeding. He attempted to read the statement and was howled down. His last statement smothered by cries was "If Harding refuses, what have we but a slap in the face for the American legion?"

An answer from the floor was: "How many times has he delivered the slap in the face already?"

A roll call on the resolution demanding the removal of Sawyer was ordered after three states—Illinois, Minnesota and Alabama had demanded it. The votes of several state follow:

Illinois 58, no; Michigan 23, no; Wisconsin, 30, yes.

PERSHING LEGION GUEST
The fourth day of the convention was marked by the arrival of the commander of the American expeditionary forces, General J. J. Pershing, who reached here Thursday from Washington after a day spent in Atlanta.

The general, official dignity laid aside, leaped from the platform of his sleeping car ahead of his staff officers and grasped the hands of the "buddies" who had come to the station to meet him.

ELECT CHIEF FRIDAY
Friday the legion will select a successor to Hanford McNider, national commander of the organization.

Alvin M. Owsley, head of the legion's commission on Americanization appeared early Thursday to be the outstanding candidate. Supporters of William F. Deegan, New York state commander and the first candidate to publicly announce that he was running for the office, appeared discouraged by unconfirmed rumors that the Missouri delegation and the predicted "midwest coalition" had split, and that the south, with the possible exception of Alabama was lining up in favor for Owsley.

Political wisecracks affected to see in this a definite declaration by the legion that they did not desire to discuss the matter of the Ku Klux Klan and further unofficial interpretation and forecast indicated that other candidates from the south have virtually withdrawn in the face of Colonel Owsley.

GETS DEATH BLOW BY VOTE OF TORRIES

Viscount Peel, Secretary Of State Of India, Also Quits Post

London. — Andrew Bonar Law has consented to form a ministry in succession to the ministry of Premier Lloyd George, the Evening News says it learns. King George summoned Mr. Bonar Law, asking him to undertake the task, declares the newspaper and Mr. Bonar Law agreed to comply.

London.—The government of Premier Lloyd George resigned Thursday afternoon.

After a brief audience with King George Mr. Lloyd George returned to Downing-St. where he received a miner's delegation but according to Frank Hodges who headed the delegation Lloyd George said he could not consult them as premier, since he had resigned.

Members of the miner's delegation said Mr. Lloyd George had told them the King had accepted his resignation.

The resignation of Premier Lloyd George was officially announced at 6:08 P. M. The resignation of Viscount Peel, secretary of state for India was also announced.

LAW NEXT PREMIER?
London.—The Lloyd George coalition received its death blow at the hands of the Conservative party when the Conservative members of the house of commons and government ministers at their meeting in the Carlton club Thursday voted 156 to 87 to appeal to the country as the Conservative party. This created a situation of the greatest political confusion and uncertainty the country has known for many years.

The next move certain to be made, will be the resignation of Austen Chamberlain and his assistants, Lord Balfour and Lord Birkenhead from the cabinet. It is expected Premier Lloyd George will then present his resignation to the king and advise his majesty to summon a conservative leader to form a government.

This course would be taken because the conservatives have the largest number of members in the house of commons.

The conservative leader expected to be picked for the task is either Andrew Bonar Law or the Earl of Derby.

MEETING IS HECTIC
There were some heated scenes inside the club because although the Carlton is the headquarters of the Conservative party, only those Conservative members of the house of commons who had supported the coalition together with the members of the house of lords who are members of the cabinet were invited to the meeting.

Lord Chaplin, who is 81 years old one of the oldest members of the party and the club, insisted on his right to attend. He had to be lifted from his motor car and he mounted the steps with the aid of two canes.

With several members of the house of commons not coalitionists, however, Lord Chaplin was barred from going up stairs in the club house to the chamber where the meeting was being held. Two or three of those excluded, protested vigorously.

Austen Chamberlain, the government leader in the house, addressed the meeting first. Stanley Baldwin, president of the board of trade, who leads the conservative members of the cabinet followed the latter.

After two or three lesser lights in the party had spoken, Andrew Bonar Law, who was the official party leader before he retired on account of poor health, took the floor.

TO BE SHORTLY LED
The life of the new Conservative ministry will probably be very brief, according to present forecasts and a general election is expected swiftly to follow its formation.

The party lines on which the elections will be fought present a profound puzzle. One suggestion is that Lloyd George may form a center party in which he counts upon Austen Chamberlain and Lord Birkenhead and perhaps Lord Balfour, the three cabinet members whose adherence to him has been repudiated by Thursday's conference.

'RED' FORCES MARCH TOWARD VLADIVOSTOK

U. S. Consul Establishes Refuge For Americans—Guarded By Cruiser

Tokio—Lawlessness reigns in Vladivostok as the result of the approach of a victorious "red" army, official dispatches say. The French consulate was attacked Wednesday and foreigners have appealed to their governments for protection. The American consul has engaged as a refuge for Americans a building, flying the American flag and guarded by the guns of an American cruiser.

Two Japanese cruisers and three Japanese destroyers also are in Vladivostok harbor to aid in the protection of foreigners.

Recent reports have related the practical annihilation of the "White" guards under General Dietrichs. The invading army of the far eastern republic of Siberia apparently was marching on Vladivostok unimpeded and the capture of the Siberian port was expected momentarily.

WOMAN ENJOYS MURDER TRIAL

Laughs During Testimony Of Alleged Slaying Of Twins

Hammond, Ind. — Apparently enjoying the humorous aspects of the proceedings as much as the spectators who crowded the court room, Mrs. Hazel McNally waited Thursday for the prosecution to present its star witness, her husband and accused, who says the twins she disposed of last spring were her own flesh and blood and not the sadwist dolls she claimed they were.

Eleven witnesses had testified when hearing began its second day and Mrs. McNally listened with seeming levity and unconcern to their testimony of how she carefully guarded the "twins" from the prying eyes of curious relatives and neighbors. She frequently joined in the laughter which the testimony brought from the crowded courtroom.

No trace of the missing twins whether dolls or babies had been found. Mrs. McNally said she destroyed them last April, telling the inquisitive that she had sent them to Chicago.

COUNCIL GETTING READY TO PREPARE BUDGET FOR 1923

Dance Promoters Must Apply
For Permits At Least 8
Days Before Dance

Inasmuch as Gustave Keller, recently elected a knight of St. Gregory, the Appleton common council will attend in a body the public reception to be given him the evening of Oct. 25 at Elk hall. This action was agreed upon at the regular session of the council Wednesday evening, on the motion of Alderman J. T. Lappen. The city clerk was asked to secure reservations for the members.

The Appleton Womens club was given permission to use the health equipment, formerly used in the room now occupied by the deputy United States revenue collector, for the two-day clinic here Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

WORK ON BUDGET
Alderman A. W. Laabs, reminded the council that the finance committee and the council will begin fixing the tentative budget for the coming fiscal year in about two weeks and called upon the aldermen and committee chairmen to prepare estimates on the needs of their wards or departments.

Complaint was made by Alderman Wenzel Hassmann, chairman of the police and license committee, that promoters of dances do not apply for dance permits early enough before the date of the dance. It was intimated that permits would be refused in future if applications are not made at least eight days before the dance. Thorough investigation he said, was necessary to prevent public dances of a questionable character from creeping into the city.

EXTEND SEWER
O. F. Weissgerber, city engineer, presented plans and specifications for laying a sewer on Morrison street and also submitted deeds to properties granted by four property owners on this section of the street that is to be opened. The work was ordered done.

Expenditures for September amounted to $54,596.75 according to the financial statement submitted by Clerk E. L. Williams. The income from interest, licenses, court fines, etc., was $1,029.45.

A bridge fund of $100,000 and a general fund of $27,444.75 represented the cash on hand.

A license to operate a soft drink establishment was issued to A. T. Burmeister upon recommendation of the police and license committee. A petition of about 140 signatures asking for laying of a sidewalk on John street bridge was referred to the committee on streets and bridges. Petitions for a street light at La Fayette and Story streets and for water service on Lemnawah street were also referred to the respective committees.

LABOR SCARCITY IN NORTH WOODS

Scarcity of labor is the only shadow that threatens the prosperity of the hemlock and hardwood business in 1923, according to O. T. Swan, Oshkosh, manager and secretary of the Northern Hemlock and Hardwood Manufacturers association.

"At least 20,000 men are needed in the woods this winter to get out logs," said Mr. Swan. "Owing to the building boom of 1922, the surplus supply of hardwood lumber is rapidly diminishing. Although we are unable at present to get men into the woods we hope, when the weather grows colder, to see an influx of help."

"Except for the labor angle, the future of the business is bright. Demands for hardwood building material are so great that it is a problem to fill them, owing to transportation difficulties. There is enough hemlock and hardwood timber standing in the northern woods to last for more than 25 years."

FIRST ENLISTMENTS IN NAVY AUTHORIZED

A letter from Washington, D. C., to the Green Bay recruiting office for the navy authorizes first enlistments, not only in the seamen branch as apprentice seamen, but also in special branches as yeoman or musicians, in the aviation branch as messengers, carpenter's mate or fitter, and in the artificer's branch as radio man, shipfitter, printer, motor machinist etc.

After they have completed their regularly prescribed course of recruit training, recruits are eligible for training in schools where they may take the following courses: Electrical, machinist's mate, coppersmiths, radio, yeoman and musicians. No promise is made to the recruit at the time of enlistment that he will be placed in one of these schools. The men for camp schools are picked at the training camp and they must show some degree of efficiency in the line they choose.

The applicants for the first named branches are enlisted in the Green Bay office and are assigned to certain classes without training in the schools.

WOMAN APPLIES FOR COP CLUB IN U. S. CAPITAL

An examination for policewoman was held Wednesday morning under the direction of Herman J. Frank, local secretary of the civil service commission. The date had originally been postponed from Sept. 16. Only one woman applied for the position. The position for which examination was held is on the police force of the District of Columbia.

Men Forfeit Right To Point Finger Of Scorn At Woman's Frivolities

Styles Affected By Would Be
Valentinos Of High School
More Ludicrous Than Anything Women Would Dare To Wear

BY MURIEL KELLY
The "Shiek of Avenue B" has nothing on the high school boys, many of whom have turned lumberjack totem-poles in their style of costume at least. Theirs still are quite conventional, but surely no one would be surprised to have these budding youths come out with the fez of East India. For once, the styles of the boys are more conspicuous and more talked about in high school circles than the girls. And it is no wonder since the young men, who were yesterday but the boys, have lately donned the queerest combination of garments seen anywhere between Nome, Alaska and Madrid, Spain.

The influence of the north is shown in the regulation lumber jack shirt in bright green or red and black checks. The brighter and bigger the checks, the "choicer" the shirt and its wearer. These are worn teelless, and open at the throat to allow play of the play for the Adams apple. But the trousers, any of the innovation which has startled the city out of its complacency. They are made of perfectly good English tweed in light colors, but at the side and bottom a three inch slit has been ripped and adorned with three buttons on either side. The trousers are worn long so that they practically cover the heel of the shoe, which by the way is oxford or tennis shoe with leather lundings.

RODOLPH HAIR STYLE
Two styles of hair dress for men accompany the combination, one, the sleeked back larded effect of Rodolph Valentino and the other the tousled effect of the man who should be wearing the checked shirt. None of the boys have made either influence pure and unadulterated, for no high boots and corduroy pants are being worn with the flannel shirt.

Neither has the Spanish influence become so strong that the boys have purchased black velvet trousers and colored girdles. None have as yet adopted the "pig tail" which Rodolph portrayed to such advantage.

GIRL ALMOST AS BAD

Now, for the girls. They too are expressing their individuality and rights as children of the United States to wear queer combinations and I suppose, one has to admit in the vernacular, that they get away with it. Skirts are very short and mostly of satin, some with lace over skirts, but there is no frivolity about the blouses and sweaters worn with many of these.

The blouse for the up-to-date maid is none other than a gray flannel shirt about which there is nothing immodest or improper for the reformer to rave. Then to make a good thing warmer, she dons a heavy sweater in "dark" white or a more brilliant hue and leaves the rolled collar open just enough to show the smart black knit tie which she probably borrowed from her brother and the mannish collar of her shirt.

But every woman must be allowed a few of the frivolities of her sex, whether she wears mostly sensible clothes or no. Ear rings are the things which make you remember that these damsels, most of them not more than 15 years old, are women, who like adornment. The long vain, py sort of ear rings are most in vogue with the semidress-sport outfit mentioned above. The hair may be bobbed and curled, or the bobs may be covered with a nest of puffs, made from the shorn locks. Either is perfectly correct, according to present usage.

SENSIBLE ALL RIGHT

As for hostery with these costumes, silk is still in favor, but one does see wool ones in light colors. The shoes are either oxfords of the brogue type or open work pumps with either high or low heels. Satin slippers are not unusual.

It must be said in all fairness to the majority of the students that they do wear sensible clothes. Early in the fall, many of the summer gingham were worn with pretty and girlish sweaters. Many of the girls are wearing the pretty plaid skirts and bright colored slip over-sweaters and they are well dressed and easy to look upon. The majority of the boys still wear conservative style suits in dark colors and tweeds. But the shock of these other costumes makes them stand out as the prevailing high school style.

FOUR APPLETON HOMES SOLD TO NEW OWNERS

The home of Elmer Koss, 772 Randall street, has been sold to Albert Jentz, and the Alfred Harvey residence, 1127 Oneida street, to Mrs. Anna Hall. These deals were completed through H. G. Thomas, real estate dealer.

The company began at once making deliveries on orders that have been booked during the last few days and it is expected that some of the coal will be assigned to Appleton dealers.

Soft coal is arriving at Green Bay in large quantities. The steamer Sherwin delivered 10,000 tons this week and the Richard J. Reiss 7,500.

THROW SALT ON FIRE TO CLEAN OUT FLUES

Cheap And Effective Way To Reduce Risks And Increase Heating Capacity

Shingle roof and defective flue fires are being reported in increasing numbers due to the increasing use of soft coal. Accumulations of soot on heating surfaces reduce the value of the fuel, and frequently clog the flues and start fires. The Federal Fuel Administration board suggests the following plan for removal of soot:

The fire is put into good condition with a substantial body of hot fuel. Common salt, thoroughly dried, is then thrown or sprinkled onto the incandescent fuel bed in a quantity depending entirely on the size of the furnace.

In the case of a house heating furnace, one pound at a time is ample, in the case of a large power plant boiler, four or five scoops full may be required. The dampers are kept open so as to maintain the furnace temperature and the salt is allowed to remain until the fumes have entirely disappeared.

Immediately upon charging the salt, the furnace becomes filled with dense white fumes which may require as much as half an hour to entirely disappear. If results are not secured on the first application, it should be repeated as many times as necessary.

Once the heating surface is thoroughly cleaned a small application every few days is usually sufficient to keep it so.

Everyone using soft coal is urged by the administration to use this remarkably simple and cheap process for getting rid of the soot, cleaning and heating surfaces of boilers, thus saving large amounts of coal, preventing fires from chimneys and generally conserving all along the line of heating and the production of power.

Keep Office Open
A secretary is to be in charge of the Y. M. C. A. office from 9 o'clock to 12:30 Sunday mornings hereafter. Two Sunday schools use rooms in the building during the morning, requiring the doors to be open. Dormitory men will be afforded telephone service and convenience to visitors through this arrangement. No business will be transacted and none of the activities will be in progress, however.

DISABLED VETS ARE FOUND IN ALL PARTS OF COUNTRY

Claims At Red Cross For Fed- eral Aid Outside Apple- ton Number 196

Virtually every township in Outagamie county outside of Appleton has disability claims of former service men pending with the government, according to reports issued by Miss Ann Helm, county Red Cross secretary. It is shown that there are 196 cases on file outside of Appleton concerning disabled men only.

A survey showing the specific service of the Red Cross to each part of the county has been prepared for the committee of Appleton branch which will visit the various branches in the interest of support for completion of the postwar cases. The report names the men in each township who have claims pending.

34 NEW CASES

There were 132 cases on file before the government sent its cleanup squad into this locality. Thirty-four new cases have been found and 40 cases which had been closed up are reopened in the hope of obtaining assistance for the men in question.

Kaukauna had 48 cases and 15 reopened the report shows. Other localities had the following respective cases: Appleton 11 and 2, Hortonville 10 and 1, Greenville 4, and 2, Deer Creek 3 and 1, Bovina 2 and 1, Kimbely 14 and 6, Seymour 9, Ellington 8 and 2, Oneida 3, Maple Creek 3, Center 1 and 1, New London 15 and 1, Dale 6 and 2, Freedom 5 and 2, Black Creek 5, Darbois 4, Maine 3, in seal-treasures 13 and 1.

In Appleton there are 42 old cases reopened and 45 new claims filed.

HELP NAVY MEN

Many claims of less importance also are handled by the Red Cross office in Appleton. Eighty men secured discharges or collected retirement pay.

Assistance was given by more than 100 physicians and more than 100 manufacturers to obtain statements and affidavits needed by applicants for government aid. Similar service was given by 150 comrades or veterans and about 50 statements were made here for men in other counties. Some of these were obtained from other states.

Help of other kind also has been given. The Appleton office has sent clothing to families in need and small loans were made to men for such things as transportation to and from hospitals. Visits also have been made to many homes and to sanatoriums.

NEENAH VETS HELP SCARRED WARRIOR

James E. Flynn the Canadian soldier, was given financial assistance by officers of the Onev Johnston post of the American Legion two weeks ago, is being cared for by the James P. Hawley post of the American Legion of Neenah until his record is looked up. Both his legs were shot away at the knee in the World War. A bullet pierced his left lung causing him to contract tuberculosis and his body is covered with scars is the result of mustard gas and liquid fire. Flynn enlisted in the Maple Leaf regiment and is one of 27 survivors out of 4,200 men. He is on his way to Winnipeg to visit his sister.

Another survivor of the Maple Leaf Regiment is Jack Ottman of Toronto, Canada, who at present is at Jefferson Wis. He has a leg and an arm missing and his body covered with scars from wounds received while facing a nest of German machine gunners and his lungs are affected as the result of being gassed. He is on his way to New Jersey where he hopes to be given treatment.

DIES IN EAST

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allenhu, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed Voigt's Drug Store and druggists everywhere to dispense Allenhu with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment.

GREEN BAY ADOPTS ARTERIAL SYSTEM

Arterial highway system has been introduced in Green Bay as a means of solution of traffic problems and as an aid in reducing the number of accidents. The most dangerous crossings have been on Monroe ave. and from now on that thoroughfare and Baird st. also become arterial highways.

An amendment to the traffic ordinance which goes into effect the latter part of the month makes it a misdemeanor to park automobiles on certain portions of Washington st. from the east approach of the bridge to Jefferson st.

Parking between Washington st. and the east approach to Main st. bridge is prohibited.

CANNIBALISM PRACTICED BY STARVING RUSSIANS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Futerman and six children of southern Russia are visiting Mr. Futerman's brother Joseph J. Joslyn, 698 College ave. They are on their way to Oregon and California where Mr. Futerman has two other brothers. As they have been on their way for more than two months they will remain here until they are thoroughly rested.

The family left Russia in time to escape the famine which is now killing off the people by the hundreds. Conditions were such before they left that practically all the domestic animals had been killed for food. Cannibalism they claimed was being practiced in some quarters.

What I Have Learned in 47 Years Practice

I HAVE been watching the results of constipation for 47 years, since I began the practice of medicine back in 1875. I am now 83 years old, and though from time to time the medical profession makes some wonderfully interesting experiments and tests, the fundamentals of causes and relief in this particular ailment are unchanged.

But the people take greater interest today in their health, in diet, exercise and the drinking of water. Constipation, however, will occur from time to time no matter how one tries to avoid it. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. I believe in getting as close to nature as possible, hence my remedy for constipation, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a mild vegetable compound. It is made of Egyptian senna and pepsin with agreeable aromatics. Children will not willingly take bitter things. Syrup Pepsin is pleasant-tasting, and youngsters love it. It does not gripe. Thousands of mothers have written me to that effect.

Over 10 million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are now sold every year, and it is the most widely bought family laxative in the world. I say family laxative because all in the family can use it with safety. It is mild enough for the infant in arms, effective in the most chronic constipation of an adult. The formula is on every package.

I REPEAT MY FREE OFFER $10,000 worth of trial bottles of Syrup Pepsin free

But there must be many who did not write. I would like to get their address this time. So I renew my offer, to remember of my approaching 84th birthday, and will again donate $10,000 to free samples. I am anxious to see one in every American home. Write for yours today. Simply give me your address. Send it to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 515 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Mine is truly a free gift, it costs the public nothing.

RUSSIAN CHURCHES
AT DAGGERS' END

Russian People "Trying Out"
Churches To Find Which
One They Want

By Associated Press
Moscow.—The people of Moscow are today wandering curiously from one church to another on Sundays, seeking to decide which brand of the two new kinds of simplified services pleases them the most. They have been accustomed by experience and ancestry to the elaborate rigidity of the orthodox church, which virtually monopolized religion throughout the country in the old days, and now that this has been taken away from them, they hardly know which way to turn.

As a result of the trials of churchmen for opposing the government's requisition of church treasures, Patriarch Tikhon was deposed and the church reorganized. Thereupon, however, two new sects developed. Archbishop Antonin, leader of the movement to oust Tikhon and work in harmony with the Soviet regime was elected as Metropolitan of Moscow by the "Life Church" convocation, but later he disagreed with others in his own organization and formed a new group pledged to work for the "Church of Regeneration."

Moscow churches today have large congregations than for many years past. Hundreds of priests also have come to the capital from the provinces to learn what is really going on in the matter of church reform. The Soviet government is understood to have taken the position that it does not care how many particular forms of worship develop, but that it will not permit a serious conflict in the governing body of the churches as a whole. Both groups are to have representatives upon the governing board.

Tucks are decidedly coming back into favor as trimming. They are used horizontally or vertically and are frequently the only trimming allowed on soft silk and satin frocks.

DETACHABLE RINGS

Rings are very much used in the latest coiffures. These are curled slightly and rather more thinly than usual. The detachable kind is much easier to manipulate than those growing actually on the head.

STOP TURKISH MARCH OF

The order produced keen disappointment among the exuberant Turkish population which made preparations on a vast scale to welcome the Kemalists.

THE SECRET OF THE COSTUME BLOUSE

ETHELIND TERRY SHOWING TWO VIEWS OF THE COMPLETED BLOUSE

BY MARIAN HALE

The costume blouse is the link that connects the tailored suit to the present style.

It enables one to have that trim, smart appearance on the street that only a suit can give and to have the effect of a costume when the coat is removed.

There are many variations of this interesting accessory, but the most interesting one is offered by Ethel and Terry, the musical comedy star. In a creative moment she invented a new design which proved to be so popular with her friends that she has been giving directions for it ever since.

HERE'S THE SECRET

This is the way you make it. Take any popular make of pattern for a plain blouse that is cut for your bust measure. Use one that fits smoothly about the shoulders and has a good neckline. Then cut a duplicate pattern in brown paper of medium weight and quite smooth.

Cut the front and back separately and join the under arm seams and the shoulders.

For a 36 bust measure you will need a full bolt of six-inch ribbon and a bolt of one-inch ribbon of a contrasting color.

On each side of the center front, baste the wide ribbon. Such together with the narrower ribbon and tear away the paper foundation.

MAKING THE SLEEVES

For sleeves, cut first the paper pattern, then join the ribbon to gether as for the front and cut the paper from beneath.

The ribbon should be cut in strips to reach the wrist, but should be joined only to the elbow. The ribbons which form the blouse should be joined only a few inches below the natural waistline to give the long waist, then allowed to hang loose.

Wherever the joining stops finish with a rosette of the narrower ribbon. The wide ribbon may be pleated on the edge, or may be fringed.

It is possible to get very interesting color combinations with this blouse. Barberry red, with narrow strips of black pink ribbon, is effective. Browns and tans or browns and the popular shades of henna and orange are very attractive.

The neckline may be finished in whatever line is most becoming, but the bateau line is most generally becoming. The opening should be wide enough that the blouse may be slipped over the head.

The belt may be a narrow one of the narrow ribbon or may be a cord matching in color, one of the tones of the ribbon.

Knights Of Old Had Nothing On Modern
Wearers Of Armor

Only Difference Between Metal
Suits Of Chivalry And Modern Women Is In Looks And Weight

BY MARGARET ROHE

New York.—In metal suit the ancient knight was on his mettle too. He'd clank and swank around a bit and rescue one or two fair damsels who were in distress, as good knights ought to do. He didn't have to press his suit, but often he would woo.

Today the tables are all turned. The maid now wears the metal and she is on her mettle too and also in fine fettle but 'twist the metal suits of knights and metal gowns today there is much difference in pounds and also looks, I'll say.

You really never saw before such gorgeous gold brocade, such silver tissues shot with hues that make the rainbow fade. The sheik would shriek with envy, I am sure, if he could see this wonderful metallic stuff wrought so exquisitely.

AND BESIDES—

And just to show how precious all these gorgeous fabrics be, they've got pet names to show their individual quality. "The Parquetier" at Allman's shown is really quite a bird. It shows the parrots on a branch their rainbow feathers blurred with gleaming threads of shining gold.

The background shimmer too and you can get this same design in almost every hue. "Pre Catalan" will win you quite, of this I feel most sure. It's patterned Anti-Volstead and it has a wicker lure.

The motif, figured o'er and o'er, will really get your goat. It shows a girl in evening gown, a man in dinner coat, a waiter in the offing and a table round.

I'm loath to tell you that a bottle of champagne, between the pair, stands radiating golden gleams here, there and everywhere. In several color schemes this comes all shot (half shot) with gold. In silver you can have it too. It isn't quite so bold.

AND THAT'S NOT ALL

In silver, too, comes "Chauve-Souris" with violet, green and black chistic motifs woven. All these fabrics on the back are more entirely metal, shot with color here and there are some folks even turn them wrong side out for evening wear.

The Mallison and Cheney metal fabrics are superb. You really can't describe them. To do justice you must blurb. For evening gowns and evening wraps these tissues are so rare I'm sure in even Sheba's day naught with them could compare. The metal brocade straight line frock with fur round sleeves and hem is quite bright alright Muscovite. It is a Russian gem.

And when my lady swaggers forth in metallized attire she scintillates and sparkles so you'd think she were a hued. Her poor male escort sombre hued, she casts quite in the shade, yet though I am a feminist I sometimes am afraid it's just her clothes that scintillate and not, by chance, her brain. Too dull garbed male is oftentimes the more "brilliant" of the twain.

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly! Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Cinderella Sally

Chapter 10 — Sally Wins

By Zoe Beckley

START HERE TODAY

SALLY, orphan employee of a soda fountain, has won a newspaper beauty contest through the efforts of her friend, MARTIN, a photographer. A reporter has come to award the prize and is talking with Martin. Sally's past life has been one of drudgery and insults at the hands of a new-rich mistress. She carries only one pleasant memory, that of HARRY STANLEY, her former mistress' young son.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
Was there danger for Sally if she won the beauty contest and took her place in the Manhattan Frolics show? The woman reporter dodged the question.

"The girl's mother is to accompany her at our expense," said she. "She's alone in the world—a foundling."

A perplexed look came into the girl's eyes.

"Then I can't tell you another thing till I see Miss Angela Rose," she said determinedly. "It all depends on her." Martin thought this over, nodded and asked the reporter to join him and Sally at dinner.

When Sally saw the stranger with Martin some premonition startled her. It gave her the air of some pretty woodland creature hearing a sudden sound. The reporter made an instant comment to herself.

"She's as good as her picture—slender—lovely ankles—lively—she'll do."

"Sally!" Martin laughed nervously. "Brace yourself for a shock. This is Miss Bennett of the American News Syndicate. She's come to tell you you've a chance to win the beauty prize—job in the chorus at the Manhattan Frolics—New York—you've read about it."

"I congratulate you, Angela Rose," said Lucy Bennett heartily, holding out her hand. "You've won the prize."

"My name's Sally Dawson," Sally's dazed look frightened Martin.

"Never mind come on and eat," he cried joyfully, "we've got to celebrate."

By the time the three were seated at the best table in the Commercial House restaurant, Sally was in possession of the facts. It was Miss Bennett herself, however who frankly put before her the possibilities.

"Mr. Martin here—who is your very real friend—and I feel you should know just what is before you," she said seriously, but with a cordial smile that won Sally's confidence.

"Of course, if you had your mother to advise and help you, there wouldn't be much chance of this turning out wrong.

"As it is, our syndicate will try to keep you under its wing a bit. But first and last, it will be up to you, Miss—Sally, to make something good out of this chance."

The word "chance" always had an effect on Sally like a trumpet call. "Chance" to her meant "opportunity" never risk.

She was thinking hard now, and thrills were beginning to surge through her. Of course, if she didn't make good, there would be the humiliating return to Branchville—a wren who had thought she could be a peacock.

But she would not permit this picture to stay in her mind.

"I'll take the chance," she said in the same quiet tone she had once used to her old mistress, Mrs. Stanley of Terrace Road.

Adventures Of
The Twins

Pride Is Cured

Nancy and Nick and Dr. Snuffles were watching to see what Sis Sparrow would do, now that she had a bright red head and wings of black and white stripes like Will Woodpecker's.

Sis had said she was tired of being brown so the fairy doctor had kindly consented to use magic and a little wild strawberry juice to fix her up. The first thing she did was to cut her old friends.

The second was to forsake her home under the granary roof where her relatives lived.

The next thing was to be extra sweet to all the aristocratic birds in the neighborhood.

Dr. Snuffles sighed. "Pride goeth before a fall," he said, shaking his head sadly.

Nancy was indignant. "Sissy Sparrow was far nicer before," she declared. "She used to take dust baths in the road and mud in the puddles and chip around and be friends with every body."

Now she sits out where every body can see her. She's afraid of not being seen every single minute."

Nick had been watching Hungry Hawk circling around in the air.

"She says she wants Charm Sodas!"

AND the grocer grins. "That's the kind of a cracker customer I like," he says. "She knows what she wants. You can always tell an experienced housewife. She names the Johnston brand."

Tell your grocer you want Charm Soda Crackers—otherwise he may send you an inferior make. When you 'phone or call today, ask for, "A pound of Charm Soda Crackers." Serve them with soup, salads and other delicacies. These fresh, crisp crackers add zest and piquancy to every meal.

ESTIMATE 5,000 WILL SEE GRID BATTLE AT BELOIT

McChesney Machine In Final
Scrimmage Thursday Night
—Will Depart Friday

Between 3,000 and 5,000 persons are expected to witness the Lawrence-Beloit football argument at Beloit Saturday afternoon, according to estimates coming from that city.

"Beloit must win," is the keynote of Beloit alumni and students. The game will be the feature homecoming attraction and grads from the entire country as well as Lawrence boosters who are to follow McChesney's machine to the south, are expected to swell the attendance to the limit.

Thursday night Coach McChesney will send his men through the final scrimmage of the week. The Lawrence eleven will leave for Beloit by automobile between 9 and 10 Friday morning.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Beloit—Almost every piece of movable apparatus, capable of carrying enthusiastic studentdom overland, will be confiscated by Lawrence college undergraduates this week to assist in the invasion of Beloit. Reports from Appleton are to the effect that student rooters for the Lawrence team are going to be on hand by the hundreds. It is supposed that Coach McChesney's eleven needs to beat Beloit, it's going to get that in ample doses.

SEE LAWRENCE WIN
The fact that Beloit has designated the Lawrence game as the homecoming game of the season merely adds to the Lawrence game as the homecoming game would like nothing better than to be on hand and to take a beating on the day in question. The state grid followers believe Lawrence is again strong enough to win the state title with ease.

Coach Tommy Mills will send a fighting eleven onto the field Saturday, and if Beloit loses, there's going to be plenty of fireworks. On the other hand, Beloit fans will not be happy without a win and every member of the 30 strong squad knows that little thing.

GREAT GAME DUE
The game Saturday is bound to be one of the greatest football battles ever staged on a state field. Lawrence has a fine line, but the upstate backfield isn't any too good. Beloit, on the other hand, has a flashy backfield and a line that has never had a real trial under fire.

"Art" Wheeler, two years ago all-state end with Lawrence, and now a Beloit college player, said last night that he expected Beloit to give the Lawrence eleven a winning argument. "Lawrence will be sure to try line backs almost without exception while Beloit will shoot off the tackles and around the ends. I look to see both teams score, but I believe the Beloit offense is strong enough to win. Lawrence is very strong in the line. McGivern, Smith, Blackburn, and Olson are among the best in the state."

KILL BUCK DEER WITH AUTO
While touring from Iron Mountain to Marinette, A. A. Conrad, cashier of a bank in Iron Mountain had an unusual experience with a small buck deer. When two miles south of Hermanville he saw the buck standing by the roadside. Just as the car reached the spot, the deer gave a leap and landed directly in the path of the automobile, which was going about 25 miles an hour. The deer was badly hurt and was suffering intensely when Mr. Conrad put it out of its misery.

Northern ducks are beginning to arrive and hunters report getting quite a few "real ducks" in the past few days at stry flocks of blue bills, canvas backs and red heads but they say the main flight has not arrived yet. Hunters are eagerly awaiting the main flight of these birds from the north.

Hunters who want to be true sportsmen are complaining bitterly against their brethren who have been slaughtering ducks in the open water. They say that these lawless brethren shoot ducks from skiffs and motor boats in the middle of the Lake du Lac des Monts and also on Lake Winnebago. They claim the hunters run up into a flock of ducks and then blaze away at the flying birds and pick up their kills in d p nets.

WISCONSIN LINE WORRIES FOLLOWERS

By Associated Press
Madison—The Wisconsin line is continuing to receive special attention from the coaches during the practice hits preceding the Indiana contest here Saturday to open the Badger's conference season. At drill both the seconds and the freshmen were sent against the varsity forward wall and managed to make a showing that causes worry over some of the line players.

Without a successful line attack, the forward passing game to be specialized in by Wisconsin this year stands less chance of success. This fact is causing concentrated effort to round material into line to fill the holes left open by injuries.

Looks Like Second Devine

LELAND PARKIN

Has Coach Howard Jones of Iowa Devine to develop a successor to himself. Parkin was the most likely candidate.

Since football training started Devine has paid particular attention to Parkin. He has instructed the Iowa champions of last year, and who was an all-American selection, was graduated in June it seemed Iowa suffered a blow from which it would take more than a year to recover.

In the game with Yale Parkin's play featured the work of the great Iowa eleven. He was a second all-star of Aubrey Devine.

Perhaps some of the success for Parkin's great showing in the Yale game is due Devine's previous to the game between Superior and Oshkosh normal there last Saturday.

Dan J. Mahoney, Dubuque, who figured as a handwriting expert in the recent Subland insurance case, has been called in to identify the handwriting of the letter which was turned over to Oshkosh normal officials. A former player on the local team is reported to be under suspicion.

Football in the Wisconsin normal school conference this year seems to be attracting greater attention and creating bigger interest than ever before in the history of the game in this state. One reason for this is that in recent years the normal schools have been playing a better quality of football than ever before in their history.

Interest in normal school football is running high in Oshkosh this year. This week will see those who are destined to be in on the finals for the championship rather definitely located. Every school in the normal school conference will play a conference game this week. Saturday's games are as follows:

Oshkosh at Whitewater.
Superior at Eau Claire.
Milwaukee at Stevens Point.
River Falls at Menomonie.
Platteville at La Crosse.

If no tie games result, sundown Saturday night will see not more than five schools still in the running for the championship, with either three or four as possibilities. Two schools have already been limited.

Oshkosh defeated Superior last week by a score of 8 to 0, and Stevens Point defeated Stout, last year's champions 10 to 0. River Falls and Eau Claire played a tie game.

Great interest centers around the Oshkosh-Whitewater game to be played this week at Whitewater, for the reason that Oshkosh and Whitewater are the only two teams which have not been tied or defeated this season. Eau Claire and River Falls were tied last week, neither team scoring.

Milwaukee and St. John's Military academy also played a scoreless tie. La Crosse was defeated by Columbia college, 21 to 0; Platteville by Milton college, 13 to 0; River Falls by St. Thomas, 14 to 0; Stevens Point by Lawrence college, 12 to 0. Superior beat Oshkosh, 8 to 0. Stout by Stevens Point, 10 to 0. Whitewater has defeated the Marquette High School, 9 to 6, and De Kalb Normal school, 15 to 6.

Oshkosh has suffered no defeat or tie and has defeated Ripon college and Superior Normal school, one of the strongest teams in the state. The results of this week's games will be followed with great interest.

TOP-KUBITZ CENTER-STOHL
BELOW—CAPT. MCGILLYN
(Courtesy Milwaukee Sentinel)
Herewith we present a few of the men who are making good in practice this week in preparation for the game with Beloit. Halfback Kubitz did not register until school had been started but the Appleton boy is fast catching up and is alternating with Kotal at quarter. In Stohl, utility half, Lawrence has one of the best backfield men in the state. Captain McGillyn is stationed at tackle and has already helped the team to two victories this year.

DENNEY PUTS ON FINISHING TOUCHES FOR WEST HI TILT

Most Regulars Are Back In Game—Go Through Scrimmage Thursday Night

With two days left before the contest with West Green Bay, Coach Denney was prepared to send his men through the final test Thursday night.

A scrimmage with a forward pass defense was on the heavy end of the program. With the exception of Morris, the rest of the regulars participated in the practice Wednesday night at Brundt park. Appearance of Capt. Bries, Mills and others who were forced out of practice because of injuries during the Kaukauna game, added spirit in the squad.

Coach Denney is on the whole pleased with the work of his men and while he believes he is facing a hard foe Saturday he is confident of winning.

BOYS RATED HIGH
Green Bay footballers are coming here rated as one of the best grid squads in the state. Despite the fact that they were outweighed 15 pounds per man, the Purple lads made up in fighting spirit what they lacked in beef and pranced over Oshkosh last Saturday to the tune of 14 to 7.

The defense of the West high is a veritable stone wall. On the defense the line opens holes leaving little trouble for the backs. Eader at full and Rahter at quarter are the stars of the backfield. In the Oshkosh game Kelly and Lund, tackles played a stellar game. Clark at left end made several pretty catches of forward passes, one of which resulted in a touchdown.

In summing up the Bay players the best that can be said of them is that their team is not a one man affair. Odds seem to favor Appleton but the Blue and Orange will have to step lively every minute if they will want to win.

Yale has been warned to watch Fullback Gordon Locke. He had been named as the star of the Iowa team. Parkin received no advance notices, but when the game was over the Yale eleven knew all about it.

ROD AND REEL
By Dixie Carroll

FLOATING BASS BUG
During the past three years the modern floating bass bug has come into favor as the real big bet in going after the bass of the running streams. Of course the floating bug is not conceded to be the one and only fly method of getting the game fish, as the wet or drowned fly will take more fish throughout the season than the float, but at certain times and conditions of water the floating bass bug makes a winning lure.

Take a good bass stream with a little movement to it in the season when the insect life along the stream is in full flight, and particularly when there are plenty of butterflies, moths and grasshoppers on the wing, and playing the floating bass bug will fill the creel quicker than any other style of fly casting.

Many well known fly fishermen have made killings in the past few seasons around Alma about the middle and tail end of August, when those waters are great for the smallmouth and fly, and it is from the use of the float in that section that quite a large part of its popularity has been scattered broadcast.

In making the cast it is well to study the current and try to work your casting water in such a way that the line, leader and bug will light on the water moving at the same speed so that the weight of the line, if on a slower stretch of water, will not drag under the bug.

Casting the ordinary dry fly is about the most difficult part of the fishing art, and it takes an expert at wet fly casting to step up into the dry-fly class, but with the floating bass bug the game is different. A fellow can drop into the bug of casting the bugs without much practice. If one is good at bait casting the bug casting is easy to acquire. You do not have to worry about how the bug will land on the surface, as it invariably drops down on the water with wings up and floating like a real-for-sure bug would float if it happened to judge short on the distance and thus become fish feed.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

Both Appleton high school and Lawrence college are facing hard battles Saturday. Beloit intends to beat Lawrence because that means the rest of the way will be comparatively easy for the Little Five title. West Green Bay midlets took the Oshkosh team in camp by a score of 14 to 7. Green Bay did not win because of its better team but because of its superior fighting spirit.

The ancient stolen signal scandal has popped up again. This time two of our highly respected normal schools, Oshkosh and Superior are principals in the case.

Deputies say that Wisconsin will win from Indiana Saturday when the two meet in the state capital. The Badgers, have the hearty support of most football fans in the state who would like to see them carry off the Big Ten honors.

Directors of the chamber of commerce, in their biweekly meeting Thursday evening in the Sherman house, will consider a special report of the industrial committee of the chamber. The road trade division also is expected to submit a report.

Gives Inside Dope How Centre Beat Harvard

"Bo" McMillan, Man Who Went Over For Touchdown Tells
How He Did It—Begins Series
Of Remarkable Grid
Stories

This is the first of a remarkable series of football stories to be printed on the Post-Crescent sport page written by "Bo" McMillan, one of the greatest football players of the day. He is the man who scored the touchdown for Centre that defeated Harvard last year. In the following story he tells how it was done.—Ed.

BY BO M'MILLIN

Football fans were stunned last fall when the wires flashed the 6 to 0 defeat of Harvard by Centre college.

The defeat of the great Harvard eleven by insignificant little Centre was the big upset of the 1921 football season. I happened to be lucky enough to carry the ball in the play that scored the lone touchdown of the game. I will always carry with me the memory of that play.

"How did you score that touchdown?"
"How did Centre manage to defeat the great Harvard eleven?"

Those two questions have been fired at me hundreds of times during the past summer.

If Centre had defeated Harvard in 1920 it would not have been such a great surprise, as many football fans believed we had a chance.

NOT SO ONE SIDED
Harvard defeated Centre that year, 31 to 14. The game, however, was not nearly as one sided as the score would indicate. Only in the final minutes of play did Harvard triumph. The reserve strength of the Crimson was too great.

Basing their hope on the score of the 1920 game, a majority of football fans expected Harvard to run rough shod over us. The 6 to 0 victory came as a great surprise.

Now for how I scored that famous touchdown and the done on how Centre put over the big thrill. I attribute Centre's victory to three things:

First—By securing "Tiny" Thornhill, a famous University of Pittsburgh star, who is well schooled in the Warner system of football which Centre uses who is an efficient line coach in every respect, and who was well liked by the boys. Along with him were added a few new linemen which made our forward wall strong enough to withstand the Harvard attack.

Second—Instead of using an open attack as we had been doing all season, and as we did in the Harvard game in 1920, I resorted to a driving game, always kicking before the fourth down.

This was a great surprise to the Harvard team as they had been coached against our open game and were only playing six men in their line of defense.

We only used three forward passes during the entire game in comparison with twenty odd in the battle of 1920.

Third—But most of all do I attribute our victory to the team spirit and cooperation that was lacking in the Harvard game the year before. (This team spirit I will cover in one of my later articles.) In that game the fellows were begging not to run with the ball, but to be allowed to block the tackle or end, etc., as the case might be.

It was by this spirit of self sacrifice in refusing to interfere by my teammates that enabled me to make the run that eventually won the game.

GAME'S ONLY SCORE
The only score of the game happened just after Barlett made a daring running catch and return of a Harvard punt.

Harvard was penalized 15 yards for pling on, putting the ball in our possession on their 35-yard line. I called time out, gathered the boys around me and said:

"This is the break we have been looking for. If we ever expect to do anything we must do it now."

Every fellow went back to his position as though he was inspired. Snowday asked for the privilege of playing the position where it would be his duty to block the tackle. Armstrong was to block the end. Roberts was to lead outside tackle with me carrying the ball.

Every fellow did exactly what he was supposed to do. I followed Roberts off tackle, reversed my field Gordy cut down their right halfback and I ran onto a touchdown. Wonderful interference on the part of my teammates made possible the run that beat Harvard.

ROYER OF SHAWANO
NAMED PRESIDENT OF VETERINARIANS

Comeback Of Horse Is Described By Speakers At Annual Meeting Here

Dr. Burke Royer, Shawano, was elected president of Northeastern Wisconsin Veterinary Medical association at the annual meeting in the Sherman house Wednesday. He succeeds Dr. William Madison of this city who had held the office two years and declined a third term.

Other officers chosen were: Dr. V. J. Laurent, Luxemburg, vice president; Dr. R. C. Finkle, Seymour, secretary-treasurer. The next annual meeting is to be held at Shawano Lake inn, Shawano.

Defense of the horse as an economic necessity both in business and on the farm and a denial that the horse was becoming extinct were key note features of the address of Dr. T. A. Merrillat, noted Chicago veterinarian, at the banquet in the Sherman house in the evening.

HOLD CLINIC

Dr. Merrillat conducted a clinic at the Madison stables in the afternoon, operating upon one horse for poll-evil and on another for roaring, a throat affection. Two dogs also submitted to operations in front of the group of about 40 doctors attending. Dr. R. C. Finkle was toastmaster at the banquet and performed some of his sleight-of-hand tricks following the talks. Dr. Madison, in his president's address, declared predictions made by city officials that there would not be a horse in Appleton in two years were untrue because the city now has more than a year ago. Hugh G. Corbett, secretary of the chamber of commerce, spoke briefly, declaring that the veterinarian is the most specific link in the contact between city and country and could do much in uniting the two for co-operation for community benefit.

HORSE HAS VALUE

No country became great without horses Dr. Merrillat said in his address. Comparing horses and tractors, he said $5,000 worth of horses would represent a value of $6,000 in five years, but that amount in tractors would be junk. Everything was tractors in Canadian wheat fields 10 years ago, he found in his travels, but this year he traveled far and saw few. Horses were coming back. Tractors got much publicity during the war Dr. Merrillat averred, yet this war was won by the help of twice as many horses as were used in any other war. Farming will lose its fascination without horses and the love of animals in the heart of the farmer, he said.

Dr. O. H. Eliason of Madison, state veterinarian, was the last speaker. He reviewed the work being done in the state and told of the progress of tubercular testing of cattle and how state aid plans operate. The northern counties had done little as yet, he said.

CITY STARTS LEVELING GROUNDS FOR ICE RINKS

Ice rinks of the several wards in Appleton will be put into excellent shape for the winter. Employees of the street department started work on grading the rinks at the First and Fourth ward schools Thursday. Improvements on the rinks in the Third and Fifth ward will follow. No improvements are necessary on the rink in Jones park and that at Columbus school. It is believed that the improvement of these rinks will relieve the usual congestion at the Jones park ice rinks.

How Your Wash Looks Under A Microscope

See What Saves—What Destroys

Don't blame the materials or the laundress for gray-looking clothes, frayed edges, thin spots and tiny holes in fabric. If these things happen the chances are that your laundry soap is nearly as water glass or some other party "filler." Most ordinary white and yellow laundry soaps contain much of it.

With a microscope you could probably see the fine, glittering particles of water glass that crystallize in the strands of the fabric when your clothes dry out. These cut the threads; usually the holes show up in the worn spots first. Others "fillers" simply rot the fabric.

Careful women are avoiding this nowadays by getting The Palmolive Co.'s large, greenish laundry bar that is all soap—no "filler"—called GREEN ARROW. To see the results best, try it at least a month or two. You'll notice the difference in the whiteness, softness and freshness of your clothes and in the quantity of soap you use. Several trials are best. You can also avoid the boiling and destructive rubbing for the olive oil and naphtha take the dirt right out with a little soaking and restore the virgin whiteness of the fibers.

Fabric experts wash with olive oil soap because it imparts that olive oil softness and resilience to the fibers. GREEN ARROW is the most economical soap as well as the most delightful, for being oil soap it is all cleaning power and goes nearly twice as far as the ordinary.

Pay a cent or two more for GREEN ARROW and save many dollars in clothes and many bars of soap.

Tuttle Press Among First U. S. Firms To Make Paper Napkins

Appleton Company Largely Responsible For Driving Chinese And Japanese Napkins Out Of United States Market

BY L. A. FISCHER

What has become of the old Chinese and Japanese paper napkins? Once no other kind was used at social functions. Now there are probably less than a thousand in Appleton. American made goods have driven them off the market. The handsome two-story stone structure covers about 100,000 feet of floor space. When operating in full force, the company employs 200 persons. For years the company has been manufacturing its own presses and some of its other machinery.

This made Tuttle Press, as far as is known the pioneer manufacturer of this type of napkin. Through years of experimentation in conversion and printing, it has produced an article that is attractive.

This company, like many other established concerns, had a very modest beginning. It occupied no more space than an ordinary living room. It originated as a department of an Elgin company manufacturing society goods. It was in operation as Tuttle Press in the year 1886.

In 1901 S. A. Whedon assumed an active part of the business, and the company became incorporated with A. F. Tuttle, president, L. A. Whedon, secretary-treasurer, and C. A. Kerber, vice president.

CAME HERE IN 1902
Inasmuch as Appleton was the center of the western paper manufacturing industry, this proved a valuable source of supply for the new company. Tuttle Press disposed of its Elgin plant and located in Appleton in September 1902. Its first location was at the John's bridge. The building owned by the Wisconsin Paper mills. The plant occupied about 7,000 square feet of floor space and employed about 30 persons. One of the men who came along from Elgin was James Forbes, a department foreman, and he has been with the company until this day.

The growing business of the concern made it necessary to look for larger quarters. In August 1906 it built its own plant in the same block in which it is now located. This was on the Northwestern railroad tracks between Lawe and Union-sts. The building was about one-third of the size of the present plant, occupying about 40,000 feet of floor space. At this time the company took over the crepe paper and crepe paper napkin department of a New York company, and began manufacturing these products.

LARGEST IN U. S.

In the 20 years of its existence in Appleton the company built up a trade that made it one of the largest concerns of its kind in the United States. During the course of the years four additions were made to the plant at Lawe-st until it now occupies the entire block with the exception of one lot. The handsome two-story stone structure covers about 100,000 feet of floor space. When operating in full force, the company employs 200 persons. For years the company has been manufacturing its own presses and some of its other machinery.

A large variety of products are included in the converting and printing output, among them tissue paper, crepe paper, crepe paper napkins, Christmas wrapping paper, adding machine rolls, paper milk bottle caps and paper towels. Its goods are shipped to all parts of the United States, as well as to Canada, Mexico, Cuba and other foreign countries.

The present offices of the company are A. F. Tuttle, president; E. N. Smith, vice president; S. A. Whedon, treasurer; V. B. Whedon, secretary and general manager.

Although there are now several concerns of its kind in this territory, it remained for one to pave the way. Not only was this done by the company, but a foremost place in this type of industry has been retained by it.

MAINE VETERANS FAIL TO CARRY U. S. INSURANCE

Census Shows Only Five Men
Have Filed Disability
Claims With U. S.

Of three claims filed last year by former service men of the town of Maine at the local Red Cross office, only one man received compensation of $8 a month with back pay from the time of discharge, it was revealed in the service census just completed in that town by Raymond T. Gomm.

The man is B. Strong. Other claims still are pending, one having been filed recently. Two claims were filed elsewhere and will be followed up by the Red Cross. The Red Cross also will file claims for the four disabled men who have never asked compensation.

Nineteen World war veterans now are living in Maine, the census brought out. Of this number nine have some physical disability. Five have filed claims for government care. None of the men carries government insurance and 10 men have no victory medals.

This township sent 35 men and one nurse into service. Five men were killed or died in camp. A number of the men who enlisted from this town have moved elsewhere.

Arrangements will be made with all disabled men to meet with the Red Cross secretary at Leeman in the near future. This is an economical arrangement both for the Red Cross and the service men, as after a census has been completed, much can be accomplished in one visit according to Miss Ann Helm, executive secretary.

THIS IS A SCENE FROM "HER TEMPORARY HUSBAND" WHICH WILL BE OFFERED IN APPLETON THEATRE ON MONDAY EVENING, OCT. 23

"The gayest comedy of the season," is what the critics say of the new play by Edward A. Paulton which has appeared with gratifying success in New York and Chicago. A company of distinction has been selected to present this play on tour and the play goes of Appleton will no doubt voice the sentiments of those who have already been privileged to witness this bright comedy. The story develops a new angle in romance, with dialogue called brilliant and mirth provoking. To attempt to relate that story in advance would be unwise as it would rob the audience of a portion of suspense and surprise, but we are assured that the author, Edward A. Paulton who has written many prominent successes has surpassed all his previous efforts and produced a comedy which will be one of the outstanding successes of the current season.

U. S. TO SEND OFFICER TO HIGH WATER HEARING

Allan H. Tripp, of Oshkosh president of the Association for Relief of High Water, has been advised that the meeting of draining experts appointed by the governor to outline plans for the Oshkosh situation will be held at Oshkosh instead of at Madison as was originally planned. The exact date has not been determined, but it is understood it will be shortly after Nov. 15.

The federal government has asked to be represented at the conference also and it is expected Major F. S. Skinner and Earl Nielsen of Milwaukee will be its representatives. It is proposed at the meeting to outline some sort of a plan which will be of avail in preventing floods each successive spring.

EVERYBODY WILL HAVE CHANCE TO STUDY ORDINANCE

Proposed Zoning Law To Be Given Wide Publicity By Common Council

In order that every resident of Appleton may have an opportunity to familiarize himself with the proposed city zoning ordinance the entire ordinance consisting of about 20 typewritten pages, will by order of the common council be printed several times in the Post-Crescent, the official paper of the city. The first publication of the document will be on Monday.

Accompanying the publication of this ordinance, a map of the city showing the areas and boundaries of the classified districts also will be printed. Thus every heavy and light manufacturer, every merchant, and every resident will be able to see at a glance in which district his property is located. This will be of vital interest to him, inasmuch as the proposed ordinance sets forth certain regulations regarding each district and the properties within it.

The final recommendations of the city planning commission on zoning were read by E. L. Williams, city clerk, at the meeting of the city council Wednesday evening and thereupon referred to the ordinance committee and ordered published.

PLAN MORE HEARINGS
It is the intention of the ordinance committee to conduct further public hearings in the city hall before the ordinance is ultimately passed. The city planning commission will be present at the meeting to answer any questions that may be raised on the subject. It is hoped that the publication of the ordinance and the accompanying map will be instrumental in bringing more persons to the hearings.

Alderman A. W. Laabs expressed the belief that more persons would appear at the hearings when they have learned to what extent their businesses or homes will be affected by the ordinance.

MR. HANZEL WITHDRAWS

Mayor Charles J. Hanzel of Antigo has commended himself to the voters throughout the Ninth district by announcing his withdrawal as a candidate for congress. Mr. Hanzel has taken a broad and unselfish view of the situation. The statement he has issued announcing his withdrawal shows a primary concern for the interests of the district. Both his action and his statement are what we would expect of a man of Mr. Hanzel's type and his conception of public service.

Had it been possible for Mr. Hanzel's name to appear on the Democratic ticket, that would have been an entirely different matter and he would have been fully justified in remaining in the contest. In fact, under those circumstances, Judge Henry Graess would not have entered the race but would have given Mr. Hanzel a clear field. Mr. Hanzel announced his independent candidacy before he really knew of Judge Graess' decision to also become an independent candidate. He did not in any sense become a candidate to antagonize Judge Graess, but entirely to fulfill what he regarded as a duty to his party and his constituents.

Mr. Hanzel has now taken the attitude toward Judge Graess that the judge was prepared to take toward him in case Mr. Hanzel's name had gone on the regular party ticket. It was illogical and imprudent to stage a three-cornered fight for congress in view of the importance of the issues involved. It would have been deplorable to divide the ranks of those who believe in sound progressive policies and in old-fashioned Americanism. Mr. Hanzel has yielded to the logic of the facts which point to Judge Graess as the stronger candidate at this particular time and the one who could fairly claim the right to a free field. This election is not a question of party success in any sense of the word. It is an election involving the public welfare. The issues are very specific and they transcend in importance all party and personal considerations.

Mr. Hanzel has simplified the situation by his withdrawal and makes it possible to go forward with the campaign with every prospect of the election of Judge Graess. It will be a hard fought campaign, but there will be no question as to the outcome if the people are made to see what is really involved, the type of man Judge Graess is as a citizen and what he stands for in public service and public policies. Mr. Hanzel deserves to receive the thanks of thousands of people all over the district. He has not lost any friends by his unselfishness. On the contrary, he has made himself known to the district in a most favorable light and has in reality added to his political strength.

RAIL TRANSPORTATION INEFFICIENT

To manufacturers and shippers the statement of Mr. Samuel O. Dunn, editor of the Railway Age, that the equipment shortage of the railroads will exist for some time is no news. It reveals no great secret.

It will not only be many months, but years, before the railroads catch up with business. In all probability national development and commercial growth will keep ahead of railroad improvement and expansion for twenty-five years or more. Business will find relief through water transportation on the lakes and rivers, and all big marine projects should be indowed by the people of the whole country. Motor trucks will afford relief in local and suburban traffic. Neither of these methods of transportation will replace the railroads, for, though they may take some tonnage away from them, they will also create much for them.

There is a shortage of motive power and freight cars under normal conditions for accommodating business. The rail strikes have aggravated this shortage. The rail service will be crippled all winter, but it will grow better. It is not simply a matter of repairing cars and locomotives: new ones must be manufactured. And money and credit must be provided for their purchase.

FEDERAL RESERVE AND POLITICS

When the Federal Reserve system was established its one chief weakness was declared by economists to be its direct political connections. The prediction that some day politics would intrude on its management has been verified several times, although fortunately only in minor ways.

The Harding administration came close to politics in the appointment of a new federal reserve board head.

Another phase of political interference became apparent lately when steps to build a home for one of the regular reserve banks were halted because two towns in the district wanted branch bank buildings. This, it is obvious is like the unnecessary construction of government buildings in different towns in order to please the constituencies of congressmen.

It is hard to see how politics can be wholly barred from the monetary system. On the other hand, it is clear that the reserve system will be weakened fundamentally if politics interferes with it.

SECRETARY DAVIS ON THE RAILROAD BOARD

In urging abolition of the United States Railroad Labor board, Secretary of Labor Davis says that wage and working differences should be left to employers and employees to thresh out. What-ever mediation or conciliation might be needed could be provided, he said, by his department.

Mr. Davis criticizes the board as being a bipartisan body. This has proved to be its real, practical weakness, a weakness which was avoided in establishing the Federal Coal-Finding commission. The United States Railroad Labor board consists of a group of members representing capital and another representing labor, and these two groups have been, of course, antagonistic. Partisan groups such as these cause trouble, and to a considerable extent, prevent agreement and settlement.

However, there is one important point which Mr. Davis seems to overlook. This concerns the rights and interests of the public. When new plans are arranged for taking care of railroad disputes, it will be necessary to lay down the principle that neither party is justified in causing loss or injury to the public. The two principal parties should, as Mr. Davis says, be permitted to settle their differences. But these parties should be required to respect the rights of the public.

I DON'T WANT A LIGHT

Every American is born with the inalienable right to light. I own a car and cigarette. Some simple-minded fellow made it good form to offer a light to the other fellow when two are lighting cigarettes. This custom is a nuisance to both lighter and lighter.

Lighting from the other fellow's match, one has to puff hurriedly, anxiously, and blunderingly, to finish in time.

To refuse the proffered light would be ungracious. But some day some man is going to have the courage to say "No" when the other fellow proffers a light. This brave soul will then haul out his own match, light it leisurely, ignite his cigarette in his own hand, and discard the match only when he gets the proper and satisfactory glow.

Who will be the first to break the chain of custom?—WFOSTER GAZETTE.

LISTENERS

Someone Strinsky pleads for more and better listeners in society. He thinks it would be a great thing for any social gathering if there were good listeners present. This listener must confess that he has not read "If Winter Comes." He has not read anything, in fact. Thus he gives the others a chance to tell him all about it, and everybody is happy.

There is much to be said for the listener. If he is a good "feeder" he helps to make those about him feel important. And, feeling thus, they are happy. Also, the good listener is loved by all. The fellow who has a state story to tell loves the man who admits eagerly that he has not heard it.

The listener, however, must be fully as well informed and as well equipped as the teller. He must listen intelligently. He must feed in a word or a phrase, or in emergencies, a whole sentence, in order to demonstrate that he is really whole while talking to. Of course the talkers are talking largely to hear themselves talk, and to impress the others who happen to be within range, but they will not feel right about it at all unless the listener listens intelligently.—WICHITA EAGLE.

IS SOUP FOOD OR BEVERAGE?

When it is best to eat soup, a reader wants to know, at the beginning of the meal, in the middle of the meal or just before the dessert? And is soup nourishing and what kind is best?

Soup is an extremely variable article. Sometimes it is a food; then again about the third day when it gets down to a homeopathic third dilution it is unquestionably a beverage. There are soups which are in themselves good square meals. And there are soups which might pass very well as cambric tea attenuated sea water.

Clear meat stock soup or broth, save for the small amount of fat floating on the top, has practically no nutritive value, containing very little if any of the protein substance of the meat, but merely the extractives, which certainly have a pleasant flavor but no food value. These extractives chiefly, and the heat of the soup secondarily, stimulate the appetite and the secretion of hydrochloric acid (muriatic acid) in the stomach. This may be a desirable thing for certain invalids and for persons who are underweight and not hearty of appetite. It is assuredly an undesirable thing for persons who are already overweight.

The logical time to take soup, if at all, is at the beginning of a meal.

When soup is thick and contains pieces of meat and perhaps vegetables then it becomes a highly nutritious article, of course. Various concentrated preparations are used for the extemporaneous preparation of soup broth or bouillon, of a flavor pleasing to some palates, but such soup neither relieves fatigue nor nourishes in the slightest degree. In fact the material is chiefly water, so the beverage is in effect highly salted and peppered hot water with a flavoring of meat extractives. The nutritious matter of meat cannot be dissolved in water, hot or cold.

Tomato soup, as purchased in cans, has about the same nutritive value as clam chowder and mock turtle soup—some 150 calories to the pound. Chicken soup yields about 100 calories to the pound, beef soup 235 calories, beef soup 120 calories, bouillon only 30 calories.

For children, invalids and the undernourished in general soup is an excellent item of diet. The cheaper cuts of meat may be economically used for making soup. A school girl's lunch may well consist of nothing else than hot soup containing bits of the meat, as many vegetables as possible and a fair amount of fat floating on the surface, together with some bread.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Case of Temperitis

Daddy and I read your corner every night and like it. I have a question to ask you. I want to know what temperitis is. Daddy says if you must do it but he won't tell me what it is. He said that if it wasn't properly controlled it might get serious. Daddy has told me about other diseases that little girls that I want to have such as scrofula. Is it like that? Papa says that if it was like appendicitis he would know what to do. My sister has appendicitis. My name is ——— but please don't put my name in the paper cause Daddy might see it, for he reads it every night. Brother said they would cut out my appendix if it doesn't stop making trouble. Please tell me what will make it well. I go to school and my teacher's name is Miss Morning.

Answer—Temperitis is an acute inflammation of the appendix. Some cases require counter irritation. A serious aspect of the trouble, if it runs on into a chronic temperitis, is that it spoils the patient's good looks. Temperitis is seldom required nowadays. What a nice name your teacher has. . . . everybody must call her good.

Unhidden Guests

Kindly tell me what will rid a place of bedbugs.—(Mrs. S.)

Answer—Thorough fumigation, preferably with hydrocyanic gas if an expert fumigator is available, or with sulphur and steam if you must do it yourself. The next best thing is squirting gasoline into every hole and crevice where the bugs may hide, but of course this calls for great caution against fire.

Safe To Go In Swimming

I had scarlet fever in June and July. I was out and have been perfectly well since July 12. Is it now safe for me to go in swimming in an indoor pool? Mother says some friends have advised her not to let me go in as the water contains germs.—(Miss P. F.)

Answer—I am safe for you to go in now.

Boat Told

I have been told that if I bathe my ankles every night with epsom salts in water it will reduce them. What quantities should I use?—(K. B.)

Answer—Don was spoofing. It won't reduce. (Copyright National Newspaper Service)

Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinion

NO OTHER RULING WOULD HAVE BEEN POSSIBLE

Decision of Attorney General Daugherty outlawing John Earleycorn on all ships entering the waters of the United States has resulted in heated editorial discussion. It generally is agreed that the ruling could not have been different, so far as American vessels are concerned, but the application to foreign shipping comes in for criticism in many quarters. It is suggested that the Attorney General is "extending" the law and some editors seem to feel that one of the effects will be to strengthen the administration's demand for the ship subsidy law should the Supreme Court rule that if American ships are American territory, no matter where they may be located, then foreign ships must be foreign territory in American Waters and not subject to the Volstead law so long as their liquor supplies are sealed and not distributed.

There will be "profound and general satisfaction with the decision," the NEWARK NEWS is convinced, so far as it effects the shipping board fleet, because the American people "abhor to see its government in the role of a hypocrite," but the NEWS also holds that "the decision reopens the flagging spirits of the opponents of ship subsidy," but it also points out that "if we are committed to prohibition as a moral principle we should not growl at its bills." The Indianapolis NEWS insists the decision "the only one that could be made," because "if the effect is bad, congress and not the department, is responsible," and replying to Commissioner Lasker's declaration that a "subsidy now is more than ever necessary," adds that "if his theory is right that the foreign vessels and Canadian pack does not get most of the business one does not see why the people should be taxed to hire their ships to run half-empty." It is the thought of the Richmond NEWS LEADER that the Attorney General's decision "stretches the law to the limit" in the manner of including foreign vessels, while on its part the Baltimore SUN adds that "the student of international relations can draw his own conclusions as to the propriety of delivering drastic evidence to the citizens of friendly powers in order to make their fleet effective as competitors." A provincial American may have no doubt about the power of the United States to pass laws for foreigners as well as its own citizens. But there is a limit somewhere.

While there could be no other reasonable declaration, so far as the American ships are affected, the Columbus, Ohio, STATE JOURNAL points out that if the Supreme Court upholds its foreign ship subsidy, and commercial loss to the country would be hence to the whole world.

BERNE wants the "people to bear in mind that in this case the United States is right and the foreign countries wrong in violating our waters with liquor traffic. Let us stand by the United States in this memorable undertaking." To which the Milwaukee JOURNAL suggests that "Americans do not believe in their government playing a double game but Americans also are going to hope that vessels under their flag are not going to compete against a heavy handicap." One thing additional is certain, the Roanoke WORLD NEWS is convinced, and that is "there is more than a probability that this latest enforcement move will tend to solidify the existing opposition and strengthen the hands of modification advocates." Whether the law that breaks the turn out to be the stronger it is going to strengthen the forces of modification sufficiently to bring about less rigid enforcement of the 18th amendment nobody can foresee.

Enforcement of the ruling, as it applies to foreign trade will spell serious ruin to American commerce, the St. Louis POST DISPATCH insists and it believes "the whole situation illustrates the furious folly of our prohibition fanaticism. No only are we subordinating the constitution and all other laws to the prohibition laws, but we are trying to subordinate international laws, the freedom of the seas and all maritime transportation to our mad experiment in intolerance." The St. Paul DISPATCH directs attention to the fact that the Supreme Court recently "lightly brushed aside," a treaty provision affecting liquor transshipments and suggests that while "the common conception is that a treaty is supreme law, the court probably saw its way avoided." The Syracuse HERALD however suggests that "the same rule of international law which makes an American ship American territory makes a foreign ship foreign territory," while the New York EVENING WORLD insists that "after the bigots, fools and slaves have had their say, there still remains an impressive body of level-headed Americans whom an affable President or Attorney-General can afford to leave out of account—even where the issue is prohibition. We are coming to the turn."

So far as the danger to American trade is concerned the Chicago NEWS suggests that "at all events, if Mr. Daugherty's opinion is sound under the laws as they stand, and are so contrived by the courts, these laws can be modified by Congress, and may have to be modified, not in the interest of the 'wets' but in the interest of the country's international trade."

But even that which will not matter to the Denver ROCKY MOUNTAIN NEWS insists, because "we are not so much interested in what will happen to the foreign vessels. The question at issue is of keeping faith with our own consciences and letting the whole world know that prohibition is above dollars and cents, and, while it may be an economic issue, above all it is a moral issue." WHO MAKES SCHOOL RULES?

Editor Post-Crescent—

I have a child who is attending Appleton High School. He is trying to follow the Commercial course. The students of the Commercial Class tell me that a student fails in a subject such as shorthand, he is not allowed to go on with his type-writing.

Now is this a rule laid down by the principal of the school or by this particular shorthand teacher. The public could hardly believe that such a rule would be made by the principal. It then must be the teacher. If the principal had his say about the Commercial Course such a rule would not be carried out, because when a question is asked about the Commercial Course the principal says, "you will have to ask the teacher about it and whatever she says is all right with me." If a student is to drop a subject, one or the other, or rather fail in one, and have to drop the other, why should a hard working man try to educate his child in the Commercial Course so that the child may get out and earn a living. I am sure that there is no use in sending the child to school if such a rule is enforced, and I am sure if it is enforced many a student will drop school entirely. I think that a teacher that is allowed the privilege of making such rules, had better run a school for herself.

Another thing is in regard to the publicity of the marks of the students that is the marks of the students who fail on their report cards.

I call such a trick, "down right mean", for a teacher to publish the failing grades of the students on her bulletin board. I would like to know whether the principal knows about such work.

If a child is not bright in his studies, and receives a failing grade there is no need for any teacher to publish it, and if the child studies his very best, and does not pass in one subject, why then should he be made to drop his entire course.

I am sure that many a parent will agree with me on this matter, as many of them have heard the same story from their children. If something is not done there will be many dropping school and therefore no need for "Junior High Schools." There is no need for "Junior High Schools."

Yours truly
Fair Ruling.

Q. What is thrown pottery? F. O. P.

A. Thrown pottery is shaped on a rapidly revolving disk. The preparation of the clay is a scientific process. The ingredients—ball clay, flint powder, feldspar and kaolin—are carefully selected and weighed in certain proportions, and then they will fuse properly and become sufficiently hard when shaped and fired. The mixture is left to stand until thoroughly soaked and then is lawned through fine linen and dumped into a plaster box which absorbs the water and leaves the clay in condition to be beaten. All the air bubbles must be driven out of the ball of clay before it is placed on the throwing wheel. Workers in pottery delight in the touch of the plastic clay as it spins upon the wheel. The thumbs make the inside of the object while the extended fingers shape the walls. After the work of art is properly shaped it is put into a plaster box to become "leather hard" and is then finished or turned. The plain objects finally are ornamented and placed in the fire oven, and a still later baking process puts on the desired glaze.

Q. What kind of a parrot learns to talk most readily? T. T.

A. The Biological Survey says that the grey parrot of Western Africa is best adapted to training as a talker.

Q. How many people have savings accounts? E. P. B.

A. There are some 11,500,000 depositors in savings banks with a total savings account of $6,600,000. This is exclusive of savings departments in other banks. Such totals would probably raise the total to 12,000,000 depositors and $7,000,000,000.

Q. Did Robert Ingersoll ever repent? C. E. T.

A. Robert Ingersoll, so far as we can ascertain, did not change his views on the immortality of the soul before his death. He believed that death ended the spiritual, as well as the physical life of man.

Q. Can matting and window shades be given a coat of paint? R. J. S.

A. Both matting and window shades can be painted to renew them. The secret of success in this work is to apply two or three very thin coats of paint rather than a single heavy coat.

Q. Why were the cedars of Lebanon remarkable enough to find a place in literature? A. I. R.

A. The cedars of Lebanon were the tallest trees known in Biblical times and references to them were on account of their height and strength.

Q. Which has the largest area, United States or Canada, without possessions? J. A. C.

A. Canada is larger. The area of continental United States is 3,026,789 square miles, while the area of Canada is 3,730,000 square miles.

Q. How long is a roll of wall paper? I. M. C.

A. The general length is eight yards.

Q. What and when is Primrose Day? M. W.

A. Lord Beaconsfield died April 19, 1881, and the anniversary of his death has been celebrated every year on that date by his admirers by the wearing of primroses.

Q. What is meant by color of office? J. R.

A. This signifies the pretense or appearance of official authority in one who being an officer in law or in fact is without the authority claimed.

Q. Can a tobacco barn be used for storing sweet potatoes? W. O.

A. A flue-heated tobacco barn can be so modified that it will serve a dual purpose. The curing season for tobacco is over before sweet potatoes are harvested, so one building will serve for both uses.

Q. What was the first encyclopedia? J. A. S.

A. The first encyclopedia written in English and with the articles alphabetically arranged was a Universal English Dictionary of Arts and Sciences, by John Harris, a London clergyman, published in 1704.

Q. What was the famous Ems Dispatch? I. E. R.

A. Ems Dispatch is the historical designation of the communication which precipitated the Franco-German War of 1870. The French ambassador asked the King of Prussia to make a formal declaration that no Hohenzollern Prince would be permitted to accept the throne of Spain. The King refused and communicated the facts in a message from Ems to Prince Bismarck. Bismarck used it by giving to the press abridged features of the French demand which served to inflame the Germans against France and war was declared.

Rapture Of Child Attests Artist's Charm

When a singer has no temperament and a sense of humor as Miss Sundellus has she is likely to have many interesting experiences which are worth relating. Miss Sundellus, who is to open the Community Lecture and Artist series at Lawrence Memorial chapel on Friday evening, is a great favorite in Brooklyn, where her audiences always fill the churches in which she sings to capacity.

On one occasion when Miss Sundellus was singing there, she was in the midst of her concert when a little golden haired fairy ran from her seat and stood directly in front of the singer. The child with her finger between her lips looked indeed a fairy, who had been enthralled by the singer. The spell was broken however, when the mother of the child reached out to pull her back to her seat. The child set up a howl which completely drowned out the singing. Her mother was forced to carry her screaming from the church, much to the amusement of the audience.

BADGER WOODS SCENE OF HUGE MOON FACTORY

Seven Moonshiners To Face
Court Friday After Captures In Forest

Madison—A tale of northwoods moonshiners and their whisky industry will be recounted in the Crandon, Forest county, Municipal court Friday.

Seven Kentuckian owners and operators of the three largest stills ever uncovered in Wisconsin, at that time are to tell the local judge about their giant establishment capable of turning out 200 gallons of moonshine daily, and of their capture recently by four state prohibition officers.

All other Wisconsin liquor raids sink into relative insignificance, compared to the Forest county venture of Carl Henning, Harry Hewitt, Royal Fuller and Ray Coates, deputy prohibition commissioners of the state department, according to W. Stanley Smith, commissioner.

These four men, led by a guide, went into the Forest county woods last week, discovered the three stills, one of 200 gallon capacity, another of 250 gallon capacity and a third of 350 gallon capacity, arrested the seven men found operating them, and destroyed 6,000 gallons of mash found on the premises.

This center of moonshine supply for a large section of Wisconsin and Minnesota, capable of manufacturing at wholesale prices $1,000 of whisky each day, was housed in three large log cabins, carefully fitted with steam heating to cook the mash.

The deputies say that the best of equipment, worth at least $15,000 for each plant, was used in making the liquor. Large steam boilers capable of a 50 pound pressure was used for heating purposes with careful piping throughout the buildings which were set over springs that furnished the needed water.

The deputies found the still operators armed, but took away their guns without casualties.

One of the manufacturing establishments was identified as the one stolen from Sheriff Hans Rodd of Oneida county a year ago.

FAVOR JOHN CALLAHAN AS STOUT PRESIDENT

Madison—The return of George Hambrecht, director of vocational education and of F. W. Schultz, president of the State Board of Vocational Education from an extensive European trip to study continuation school methods, will bring a meeting of the state vocational board sometime in November to select a successor to L. D. Harvey as president of Stout Institute.

This board action will be of considerable import to Wisconsin education because of the likelihood of the selection of John Callahan, superintendent of public instruction, for the position. Mr. Callahan is known to be willing to take the presidency of Stout and to be the board's first choice.

A vacancy in the office of superintendent of public instruction would result, with the appointment of a successor to Mr. Callahan to be made by Governor J. J. Blaine. Conrad Patzer, supervisor of practice at the Milwaukee Normal school, is mentioned as the most likely appointee of the governor should a vacancy occur. Another prospective superintendent would be Carroll G. Pearce, president of the Milwaukee normal school.

BISHOP WELLS DENIES HIS HEALTH IS POOR

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c. adv.

NEED NEW FURNITURE NOW
Tuesday afternoon I saw coming down Second Ave. a fine looking horse hitched to a wagon piled high with furniture. I noticed also it had no driver. The horse kept on running until it came to the corner of North Division and Second Ave. where it made a short turn, causing the wagon to jump into a telephone pole, breaking one of the front wheels and tumbling half of the furniture to the ground.

A CLOSE CALL
As I was walking along Spencer St. I saw a motorcycle coming along at a very high rate of speed. Just as it reached the corner, the driver saw me. To avoid a collision he made a sharp turn and was turned completely over. Luckily no one was hurt. The driver of the motorcycle later admitted that he had no brakes.

LIKE KNIGHTS OF OLD
Tuesday evening about 7:30 as I was standing on the corner of College Ave. and Oneida St. I saw a young flogger start to cross the street. She got about half way across almost in front of me, approaching a car when a young man, evidently a student, saw her predicament. He rushed to her, picked her up in his arms and carried her back to safety.

CHAMPION WOOLGATHERER
A young man met his elderly neighbor on the corner of College Ave. and Durkee St. They immediately became engaged in an interesting conversation. The elderly neighbor finally invited his young friend to ride home with him. The invitation was accepted and the two walked toward the garage where a large car was waiting. As they were about to enter the car the young man suddenly exclaimed, "Oh! I can't ride home with you. I nearly forgot that I came after my own car which I forgot when leaving for home an hour ago."

SETTING AN EXAMPLE
It is strange how much is expected in the line of courteousness nowadays from children and yet so many adults fail to reciprocate.
However one busy man driving a newly painted truck up Johns St. remembered to recognize the child. A youngster called to the driver "Your dragging the rate." The driver stopped the truck as soon as possible got out, replaced the gate then called out his thanks to the lad.
The boy's hearty response was "That's alright sir."

NOT ROOM ENOUGH
The bus from Menasha was crossing Lakeview bridge and another car tried to pass it. The driver of the bus turned toward the railing to let the car pass but he had to crowd a man on a bicycle to do so. The passing car then edged closer to the bus and the bus kept crowding the man on the bicycle till the latter ran into the high steel railing. I saw him pick up his bicycle and the look he gave the autos was more fearful than anything he could have said.

STAGE and SCREEN

MAY ROBSON

"MOTHER'S MILLIONS"
May Robson, the most beloved woman on the American stage is on her way to us with the most successful play she has had since "Aunt Mary" and will appear at Fischer's Appleton on Friday Oct. 27 in "Mother's Millions."

There is a big surprise in store for all of the star's followers, for she is doing real heavy emotional work and combined with the wonderful comedy for which Miss Robson is noted, "Mother's Millions" is taking first honors.

Harriet Brown—the role Miss Robson plays, is the most unique of any of her roles.

She rules the world as a financial leader but her heart is as big as her whole body and solid gold. "Mother's Millions" has a great moral!

Her Husband's Trademark
There is a worth while theme in Norma Swanson's new Paramount starring picture "Her Husband's Trademark," which opens today at Fischer's Appleton. It teaches the folly of men and women who live beyond their means and who seek to attract wealth by making lavish displays of wealth they do not possess.

Miss Swanson has a strong role in the picture and is fully supported by a strong cast of players.

SAVE WASTE PAPER AND CONSERVE PULP FORESTS

Croft Collins, president of the Book Paper Manufacturers association, informed members at their meeting at Chicago Wednesday that more than 300,000 acres of timber in the United States have been preserved this year for the future by the use of waste paper in the manufacture of new paper.

"The shortage of waste paper in the United States today is more than a business problem of the paper industry," he said. "It is a conservation problem, involving the forests of the entire country.

UNRULY TEAM
Wednesday afternoon a heavy team belonging to the Ullman stables came out of the barns at the corner of Washington and Morrison streets and started to run north. The driver could not control them as they went over the curb, smashed down a small tree and broke the tongue of the wagon by running into a large tree in front of the home of Mrs. Shepherd. Two men were on the wagon but neither was hurt. The wagon was demolished.

"Every ton of waste paper used by paper mills means just so much of our forest resources saved for the future."

"Taking good pulpwood land as an example, it can be said that the use of six tons of waste paper is equal to saving of one acre of timber from devastation. This is no small matter when it is considered that the paper industry will use in 1922 nearly two million tons of waste paper."

The Rev. Adam Grill, Thomas Finnegan and William Fountain left for Oshkosh Wednesday on a squirrel hunting trip.

DOCTOR ORDERED WOMAN OBEYED

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and is Now Well

Chicago, Illinois.—"You surely gave women one good medicine when you put Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on the market. After I had my baby I was all run down and so nervous it kept me from gaining. My doctor did everything he could to build me up, then he ordered me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with his medicine and I am now a new woman. I have had three children and they are all Lydia E. Pinkham babies. I have recommended your medicine to several friends and they speak highly of it. You are certainly doing good work in this world."

—Mrs. ADRIAN TOMSHECK, 10567 Wabash Ave., Chicago, Illinois.

There is nothing very strange about the doctor directing Mrs. Tomscheck to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. There are many physicians who do recommend it and highly appreciate its value.

Women who are nervous, run down, and suffering from women's ailments should give this well-known root and herb medicine a trial. Mrs. Tomscheck's experience should guide you towards health.

I witnessed a dog fight Wednesday afternoon between an English bull-dog and a little black cocker.

Two little tots stood by and cried till one picked up her dog by the hind legs and held him high in the air.

The bull dog jumped and jumped and jumped to reach him. A bobbed haired girl happened along. She picked up a stick and struck the bull dog heavily on the back. He was off in a minute.

SAGE TEA BEAUTIFIES AND DARKENS HAIR

Don't Stay Gray! It Darkens So Naturally That Nobody Can Tell

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful. This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

NEED MILLIONS TO PUSH METHODIST MISSIONARY WORK

Bishop Burns Spurs District Leaders At Banquet To Keep In Step

Bishop Charles Wesley Burns of the First Methodist Episcopal church addressed more than 175 pastors and laymen of the Appleton district, Wednesday evening following a banquet in the First Methodist church.

Bishop Burns, who has been speaking from coast to coast in behalf of the final centenary campaign said:

This is an age of changes. Persons living today must not be bolstered up by the ideas of another age. If they are to be dead, they must be dead to the past rather than to the future. They must be geared into the new world order for the forces outside the church may be the dynamic forces of the future church. Whether tomorrow will be christian or pagan depends upon the ethical, social and religious standards accepted today.

That the statement "the race today is between education and catastrophe," made by H. G. Wells may be true, is the opinion of Bishop Burns. He said more changes have taken place in the last three months than in several previous years and in every instance the change has been due to the efforts of the conflicting forces to succeed without the help of christian principles.

The deficit of several million in the Centenary pledge of the Methodist Episcopal church must be met before Nov. 12 or a 35 per cent cut will have to be made on the funds for foreign work, the bishop said. This cut would not only mean that new workers will be unable to go, but many already in the foreign fields will have to cease work for the present time.

ONEIDA PAIR WED 37 YEARS, DIVORCED

Years Of Quarreling Ended For
Mr. And Mrs. Viestentz—
Sons Drop Claims

An absolute divorce was granted by Judge Edgar V. Werner in circuit court Wednesday to Mrs. Louise Viestentz from August Viestentz of Oneida. At the same time three other cases instituted by three sons Alfred, Charles, and Leonard, against the parents for division of property were amicably settled without cost to either party except those of the clerk of court. The sons have released all claims.

The divorce case had been turned over from the municipal court and was granted on the grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment. The husband is 61 and the wife 58 and they were married in Bonduel 37 years ago. There are eight children all over the age of 21. Action was begun by the husband but the divorce was granted the defendant on her counterclaim. In January 1920 she also had begun action but later withdrew it.

The couple had been quarreling for years according to the complaints of both parties. They lived on a farm in the town of Oneida, which goes to Mrs. Viestentz, while Mr. Viestentz is to receive $7,750 as his part of the property division.

LOYD GEORGE RESIGNS POST

would probably command the support of a goodly proportion of the Conservatives who stood by the coalition and also the coalition liberals. This formation might put the Labor party in the position of the chief opposition party.

The possibility that Lloyd George will try to return to the leadership of the liberals is not to be overlooked either.

Two events of Wednesday are considered to have contributed largely to Thursday's decision. One was the result of Newport election which insofar as it was any test, confirmed the belief of the "die hards" that the Conservatives, going into the election as a party would sweep the country.

The second was the decision of the committee of the Unionist organization to hold an emergency meeting to consider the course of the party because of the feeling that Thursday's caucus, composed solely of the coalition members of the party in the house of commons with such of the members as the house of lords as were cabinet members, had no right to assume the future for the whole party.

The general results of Thursday's collapse of the coalition promises to be after a period of upheaval, the length of which is difficult to predict, the reversion of Great Britain to the traditional system of government on strict party lines.

Several Unionist junior members resigned immediately after the Unionist meeting. These included Stanley Baldwin, president of the Board of Trade; Sir Arthur Griffith-Boscawen, minister of agriculture and fisheries; Lieutenant Colonel L. M. S. Amery, parliamentary and financial secretary to the admiralty; Sir Philip Lloyd Greame, minister of overseas trade; Sir John Baird, under secretary of state for the home office and Colonel Leslie Wilson, joint parliamentary secretary to the treasury and chief unionist whip. Captain H. D. King, another of the Unionist whips and Colonel Albert Buckley, assistant Union whip also resigned.

The name of Miss Catherine Stuyvenberg was omitted in a Post-Crescent article as one of those furnishing music at the Stuyvenberg-Van Drunen wedding reception at Kimberly. Miss Stuyvenberg played the piano and William Stuyvenberg a violin.
